"Doctor Who"

(Dur. 21")

TELECINE 1 (CONTD.)

Counntry roads and Weir

LIZ in the Doctor's car realises she is being followed and panicks. She accellerates, but the other car still follows. LIZ slews round a corner - the other car follows. In the other car are REEGAN and two of his men. Finally the other car overtakes LIZ and cuts in forcing her to stop. LIZ jumps out and runs off the road into a field. The heavies leap out and run after her, chasing her across the field. LIZ reaches a cat-walk which stretches across the river and begins to run across it. The heavies follow. LIZ stops to catch her breath and glances back. The heavies run towards her. She turns and suddenly realises that she is standing over a deep and turbulent weir. She runs desperately on, hoping to get across to the other bank. The leading heavy catches up and grabs at her. She swings wildly at him and he stumbles. The second man just stops in time to prevent himself falling over him. LIZ runs on then suddenly stops - she has reached the end of the cat-walk. Below her and in front is a cauldron of boiling water. Behind her are the heavies. She swings round wildly. The first heavy grabs at her. She ducks - slips and vanishes over the edge of the cat-walk.

 CARRINGTON QUINLAN: This Doctor has even volunteered to pilot the recovery rocket.

CARRINGTON: He must be stopped.

243. 1 D
 CU CARRINGTON QUINLAN: We could tell him the truth.

CARRINGTON: (ANGRY) No! We know too little about him.

244. 3 D
 CU QUINLAN QUINLAN: There may be no alternative.

245. 1 D
 CU CARRINGTON

 There's got to be.
If that rocket goes up it means disaster for the entire world.
